The Inauguration of Our President

Inauguration principals chat following the event.

The year 1956-57 marked a new era in the long and brilliant history of the college as Warmoth Thomas Gibbs was inaugurated as the fourth president of the college.

Those of us of the college family considered it a rare privilege to witness the event which, the record shows, occurs at A. & T. only once in a lifetime.

The event, held in November at Founder's Day, was climatic in the rise of "Dean" Gibbs, who had served the college with high devotion since 1929.

The president was doubly honored. Prior to the actual inauguration ceremony, an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from his Alma Mater, Wiley College of Texas, was conferred upon him by Dr. Julius Sebastian, its president. Dr. Gibbs then had draped about his shoulders the brass medallion, bearing the college seal, emblematic of the presidency of the college. Robert H. Frazier, chairman of the Personnel Committee of the Trustee Board, made this presentation.

The guest list for this historic event was much the same as Who's Who in American Education.

This was truly a shining hour for the college and its entire "family."

The names of those who marched in the procession read much like "Who's Who in American Education."

President Gibbs has the Doctor of Laws degree conferred upon him by Dr. Julius Sebastian, president of Wiley College, his Alma Mater.

The dramatic moment—Dr. Gibbs is draped with the President's Medallion, official seal of the college, by Robert H. Frazier of the trustee board.

RECESSIONAL—The long line moves along the way from Harrison Auditorium, scene of the inauguration ceremonies.

RECEPTION—Dr. Martin Jenkins, president of Morgan State College, and Mrs. Jenkins exchange banter in reception line.

HELP FOR DAD—Following reception, daughter adjusts president's tie in a little family get-together.

NURSE THELMA WADDELL
Director, College Infirmary

Dedication . . .

. . . To a warming personality, one who has gone quietly about her daily tasks without complaint or fanfare, yet exhibiting a driving devotion to duty . . . because of her tender care in treating the ill . . . because of her ceaseless efforts to obtain the best in facilities and equipment to accomplish the job and because of all of her efforts to develop the program to meet the medical needs of the students, we dedicate this, the 1957 AYANTEE to Miss Thelma Waddell, our esteemed "nurse."

SEBASTIAN INFIRMARY—A dream come true, that of "Nurse" Waddell, marked the completion of the new and modern Sebastian Infirmary. Its construction symbolizes extensive planning, hard work and relentless efforts on the part of our honoree, Miss Thelma Waddell who heads the beautiful and efficient plant.

Foreword

The year 1956-57 was filled with many changes and experiences for all of us—students, faculty, and staff.

It can hardly be expected that this publication offers a complete picture of the places or tells a complete story of what has happened here during the past year. We have no way of depicting the spirit which lives here and in our hearts. At its best, this volume can present only a few glimpses of this passing cinerama . . . some of the people . . . some of the places . . . some of the events.

Of one thing we can be sure, the past year has been truly eventful, inspiring, and worth cherishing as we turn through the pages of time.

DUDLEY MEMORIAL BUILDING

Constructed in a different era, the Dudley Memorial Building still holds its own, for beauty and majesty, among the many newer structures.

Probably, the most beautiful building on the campus, it has lost nothing in prestige because it houses the main administrative functions of the college.

It is named for the second president of the institution, Dr. James B. Dudley.

Administration

President Warmoth Thomas Gibbs

A rare sort of personality is Dr. Warmoth T. Gibbs, who assumed the presidency of the college after thirty years of devoted service. He joined the college staff in 1926.

Never too busy to consider the problems of students, he makes important decisions only after thorough deliberation. He is the father of three children, all graduates of this institution, but has been the literal "father" to thousands of young men and women who have passed through these hallowed halls.

He expressed best his love for students and the classroom when he said upon assumption of the high office, "I shall regret to give up teaching, for it has afforded a close contact with young folks which I have enjoyed and shall miss very much."

FIRST LADY

Mrs. Marece Jones Gibbs, a native Bostonian and the wife of our President, possesses the genuine charm that befits a "First Lady."

Her sincere love of people, her keen interest in students, and devotion to family and friends endear her to the hearts of the college family.

Personnel Deans

THE DEAN OF WOMEN

Mrs. Ouida Benton, the new Dean of Women—"With the co-operation of the staff and students, I feel I can be of real service to A. & T. College."

In her new position on our staff Mrs. Benton's greatest aims included improvement and invigoration of the academic endeavors, cultural principles, and social activities of the entire student body.

THE DEAN OF MEN

As a counselor and an administrator, our Dean of Men, W. H. Gamble, was a source of inspiration to all of us—not just to the men.

He remained in a constant state of readiness to assist or counsel with the students at-large.

DEAN OF WOMEN'S STAFF

Those gracious, friendly and helpful folks who composed the staff for the office of the dean of women showed unusual patience in sharing our problems from day to day. Among those who served in this capacity, included from left to right: Miss Christine Williams, secretary; Mrs. Inez H. Goldsmith, Miss Margaret L. Corbett, Mrs. Mabel S. Rhodes, Miss Mary C. Williams, Miss Louise L. Pearson and Mrs. Mavis Brimmage.

DEAN OF MEN'S STAFF

The staff, connected with the office of Dean of Men, rendered invaluable services including everything from counseling to making our living at A. & T. a happy experience.

Schools

FROM EVERY DIRECTION

Every day, on the hour, we passed from every direction in a continuous march from class to class. Those are days, as happy and carefree as they were, we'll ne'er forget. During our college era we saw all of these buildings rise from the old football practice field.

Our First Graduates in Nursing

With full accreditation, the four-year old A. & T. College School of Nursing awarded Bachelor of Science degrees to its first graduates. To qualify for the coveted certificates, the history-making class of fifteen members was taken through a rigid curriculum which involved training in care of those stricken with both simple and complex afflictions.

The four-year program, during which time the students learned to care for patients with all kinds of illnesses, was marked by intensive clinical training. The students received invaluable experience following the summer of their sophomore year when they went to Veterans Administration Hospital at Tuskegee, Alabama to work with psychiatric patients. After their junior year, these nursing students learned rudiments in the care of tubercular patients at Veterans Hospital in Oteen, North Carolina.

In accordance with the diversified facets of their chosen profession, the graduates chose varying fields of nursing to enter—pediatrics, psychiatry, obstetrics, and others.

The Nurses' motto, "tender loving care," is reflected in its formidable campus organization—the Teloca Club.

With mixed emotions of sadness and gladness, prospective graduates move in the traditional line towards the College Quadrangle for commencement.

Freshman Class Officers

A giant group of entering students soon banded themselves into a smooth working organization with the aid of these fine officers. They were, seated: Henry Burrell, Curtis Reeves, Roosevelt Lawrence, president; Sadie Wilson and Nellie Standfield. Standing are: Mary Hodge, Hinston Richardson, Fredia Moore, Allen Goins and Ethel Smith.

HOLLAND HALL—Home of freshman girls, probably the most popular spot on the campus.

The Cadet Battalion Staff

Army R.O.T.C.

"Look Sharp, Be Sharp, and Act the Part"—The motto of the Army ROTC reflects the training of each cadet. One of many such Army installations in colleges throughout the United States, the ROTC program affords each male student the opportunity to enter the Army as a commissioned officer upon completion of four years of training and one session of summer camp.

Scrutinous in its selection, thorough in its instruction, the unit here at the college geared its yearly training agenda toward commissioning well-drilled, qualified individuals. Lieutenant Colonel Aubrey L. Williams, the present PMS&T, began his tenure in 1955.

The Air Force R.O.T.C. program stresses qualification and ability. Under the direction of Major Theodore A. Wilson and highly trained staff, these aims are accomplished.

Scabbard and Blade

The CORPS STAFF—"Top Brass" comprise the Corps Staff of the Joint Army and Air Force R.O.T.C. units at the college. The men who occupied these high posts included: Charles Gavin, James Pringle, Walter Jackson, Corps commander; Spurgeon Fitts and James Dillard.

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade is a military honor society. It is composed of those advanced army and air cadets who maintain high scholastic averages and who demonstrate outstanding military proficiency. The society was founded in 1904 and the unit at A. & T. B Company, 10th Regiment, was organized in January 1952. The commander was Cadet Captain Moses Payne.

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade included those cadets who had made outstanding records in the two R.O.T.C. units. Here are the men who composed the organization in 1956-57.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY DEBATING TEAM

Arnold Air Society

The Arnold Air Society did itself proud with one of the finest debating groups. The unit participated in debates with Kappa Pi Kappa and competed with other A.F.R.O.T.C. units about the country. Plans were being made for the annual trek to the University of Pittsburgh where the unit made an outstanding record last year. The team was coached by Capt. J. W. Moseley.

The Arnold Air Society was an Air Force R.O.T.C. honor society for advanced cadets who maintained high academic ratings and demonstrated outstanding military proficiency. The A. & T. chapter was headed by Cadet Capt. Charles Gibson.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY MEMBERS

Pershing Rifles

GUIDED MISSILE STAFF The Guided Missile was published by advanced AFROTC cadets. Began in 1955 under the guidance of Major Theodore A. Wilson, the paper is concerned with timely developments in aviation, on the campus and in the Air Force.

The Student Council

The conference table is recognized almost universally as the place for making intelligent decisions. Around our conference table considering matters of importance to the student body, sat the Student Council.

Contrary to the popular belief that the Student Council exists for the sole purpose of attacking administrative actions, our Council actually assisted the Administration by performing very important services for students. The Student Council administered the student activity fund, scheduled social activities, fostered student leadership, and represented the student body in all college programs and activities.

Officers of the Council were William D. Mason, Jr., president; Clarence Peoples, vice-president; Austin D. Lane, Jr., secretary; and Walter McAllister, treasurer.

WOMEN'S GOVERNMENT COUNCIL

The Women's Government Council was founded at the college in September, 1955. Its purpose is to provide opportunities for self-discipline, social growth, and experiences in self-government for the women students of the college. The officers were: Jeanne O'Hara, President; Dora Threault, Secretary; Gretchen Vann, Assistant Secretary; Tomiesene Mason, Treasurer.

THE MEN'S DORMITORY ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Men's Dormitory Advisory Council, organized in 1955, is an outgrowth of the old Scott Hall Senate which had its beginning back in 1952. With the addition of a new men's residence hall, the change was imperative.

Aimed at giving the men self-governing opportunities in their living quarters, the organization did much to cultivate a fine "esprit de corps" among the men and maintain a wholesome relationship all around.

Officers included:

Ellis E. Ragland
President

Samuel L. Tucker
Vice-President

Austin D. Lane, Jr.
Secretary

Johnnie Jordan
Treasurer

Boss Farrington
Parliamentarian

Jimmie L. Barber

SOPHOMORE COUNCIL

The Sophomore Council, one of several student organizations working in co-operation with women personnel, did an outstanding job during the year. One of its principal projects was work with entering freshmen girls in helping them become adjusted to their new surroundings. Sacrificing a part of their vacations, they returned early for Freshman Orientation and did an excellent job.

The officers of the group, included: Bertha Owens, chairman; Barbara Hill, secretary; Alice Sessoms, reporter and Esterline Smith, social reporter.

The College Band

The famous 120-piece A. & T. College Marching Band was truly the pride and joy of Aggeland. During the year it maintained its high rating and drew more than ordinary attention. The group was also in demand for more out-of-town appearances than ever before in its long history. Mr. Walter Carlson directed the group along with the assistant, Mr. R. H. L. Jones.

College Choir

The A. & T. College Choir reached a new plane of excellence during the year. Almost everybody knew that it was the hardest working outfit on the campus, but all of those hours of practice developed the organization into the finest the college has ever had. The group served the college well, both at home and away. It had just completed its annual tour of the Atlantic Seaboard as this issue went to press.

HOWARD T. PEARSALL
Director

The group was directed by Mr. Howard T. Pearsall, chairman of the Music Department. Mrs. Rosemond S. Lawson was accompanist.

Dramatics

The Richard B. Harrison Players, under the direction of Sylvester F. Clarke, and John M. Stevenson, Assistant Director, has been quite active this year. The main Fall production was "The Heiress" by Ruth and Augustus Goetz. The top Winter production was "Angel Street" by Patrick Hamilton. The Spring Quarter plans called for a more entertaining season than ever.

The officers were as follows: President, Henry B. Lane; Vice-President, June A. Smith; Secretary, Louise M. Smith; Corresponding Secretary, Felicia Black; Ernest Miller, Parliamentarian; Arthur A. Keyes, Treasurer, and C. Perkins Smith, Reporter.

PURPOSE

This Student Christian Association is a fellowship of students and faculty members who desire to discover for themselves the highest ideals of Christian living and service and to have a part in making these ideals operative on the college campus and throughout the world.

American Chemical Society

The campus chapter of the American Chemical Society had as its objective to acquaint young chemists with the broader aspects of their chosen field. An affiliate of the Central North Carolina Section of the American Chemical Society, it did much to broaden professional contacts with those already working in the field.

Mu Xi Nu Social Society

"Lovers of the Modern Arts"

The newest social organization of the campus, Mu Xi Nu, organized in September, 1955, has as its objectives: to promote a better understanding of the contemporary arts, to revive a lasting school spirit, to stimulate scholarship and to widen the varieties of programs on the campus. The officers included Douglas D. McAdoo, president; Howard L. Hawkins, vice-president; Walter White, Jr., secretary; Samuel Gee, treasurer; and Howard T. Pearsall, advisor.

The Fortnightly Club

The Fortnightly Club, an organization interested in literature, enjoyed an outstanding year, 1956-57. Composed mainly of those majoring in English, it had as its faculty advisor, Miss Jean Bright, a founder of the organization.

Agricultural Association

An organization as old as the college itself, the Agricultural Association is a group whose members are predominantly majors in the School of Agriculture. Its chief objectives were to stimulate scientific achievement in and appreciation for advantages and opportunities in the great industry of Agriculture.

Physical Education Majors Club

The Physical Education Majors Club (P. E. M.C.), served the interests of those who pursue professional training in the "Phys. Ed." field, both men and women students. Earl Holden served as president of the local organization.

French Club

The French Club, served an outstanding purpose as an adjunct to the college's Department of French. Its objectives were simple, to develop an appreciation of the French language, the people and their customs.

OFFICERS: President, Richard Rudolph Howe; Vice-President, Jean O'Hara; Secretary, Ethel Headen; Asst. Secretary, Deloris Farrer; Treasurer, Mary Southerland; Committee Chairman, Maggie Searey; Advisors, Mrs. Iris Williams, Dr. W. N. Rice.

The Art Circle

The Art Circle, a student professional organization for those who majored or pursued minors in Art, had for its objectives the stimulation in interest and appreciation in painting, drawing and related fields. Robert Carry was president of the group.

Home Eckers Club

The Home Eckers Club, a student professional organization of those majoring in phases of the Home Economics field, aimed at the development of further interest in the field through encouraged research, study and application.

The organization took on renewed vigor during 1956-57 and through its efforts, several worth-while demonstrations in "better living" to the college community.

Jean Riddick was president during the year.

New York-New Jersey Club

The New York-New Jersey Club, composed of students who live in the two states, gave its members an outlet from self-expression and co-operation. Out of it developed a fine band of friends which carried over into their own home communities.

Virginia Club

The purpose of this club is to have a closer social contact among the students from the various parts of the state of Virginia.

Its officers included: President, James R. Barrett; Vice-President, Daniel Fulton; Secretary, Shirley Harris; Treasurer, Henry G. Holibuton; Reporter, Arthur Keyes; Business Manager, Dennis Gardner and Queen, Mrs. Rosa Jones.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club served its purpose of creating within its members and others who had association with it, an understanding of the differences in people of varying customs and backgrounds.

Music Educators National Society

A professional organization, the Music Educators National Society maintained a chapter here at A. & T. The prime purpose of the group was to instill further appreciation for the study of music for those who intended to pursue music education.

Geographical Society

The purposes of the Geographical Society were to further geographic interest on the campus, to ascertain better ways to utilize the resources of our home region, to make geographical information functional, and to foster field trips to places of geographical interest.

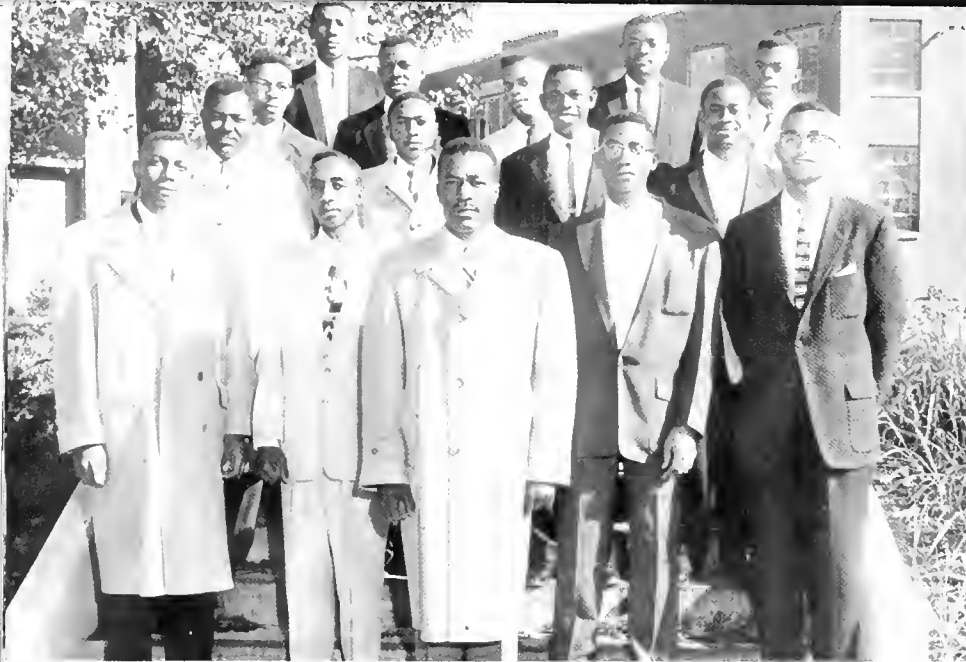

Its officers included: President, Camilla Clemenseau Taylor; Vice-President, Robert Howlett; Secretary, Lummie Ross; Treasurer, George Edwards; Reporter, Mildred Gray and Chairman of Social Committee, Vera Bowe.

Coastal Collegiate Club

The Coastal Collegiate Club was an organization which brought together a sectional group of students who live in that great eastern expanse of North Carolina, the Coastal Plains. Its objectives were to promote social adjustment and leadership among those who comprised the largest single segment of the campus population.

New Farmers of America

The New Farmers of America at the college, is an organization which carried much the same objectives as the organization does at the high school level. Composed, principally of those who held memberships "back home" in high school, members wish to perpetuate ideals and objectives of the organization in developing an awareness of the importance of scientific agriculture. McDonald White was president of the chapter.

Kappa Phi Kappa Forensic Society

The Kappa Phi Kappa Forensic Society, the debating organization at the college, served two top objectives, the stimulation of interest in the art of formal discussion and an appreciation for formal discussion of controversial issues.

Officers of the organization included: Samuel Tucker, president; Anne Games, secretary; William Chapman, librarian; Monroe Filler, treasurer and Leon Dingle, reporter.

Industrial Arts Association

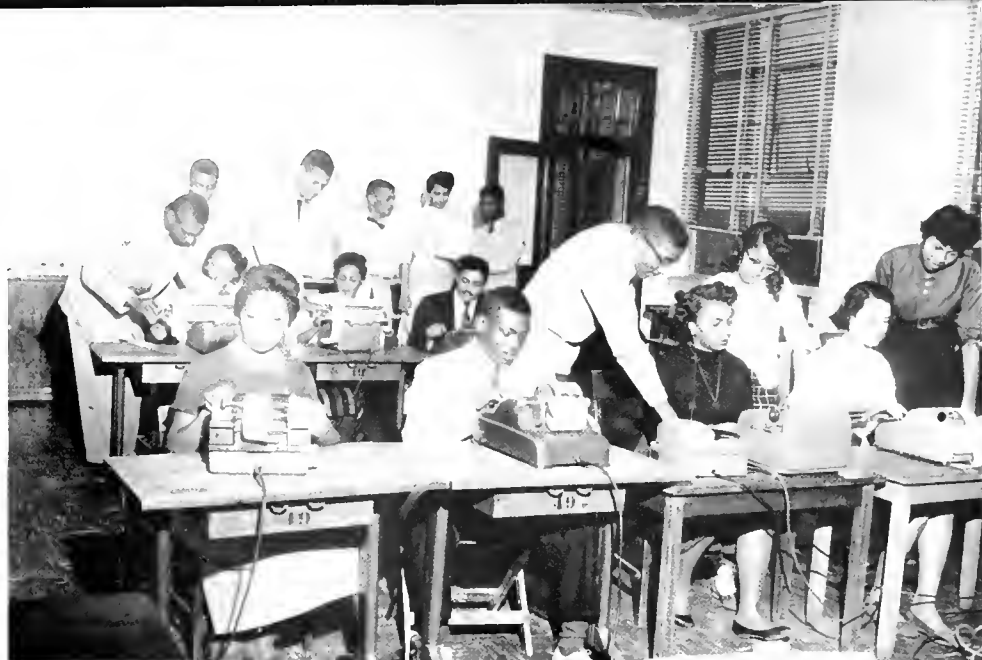

The purpose of this Industrial Arts Association is to bring the students majoring in Industrial Arts and Vocational Education closer together; to acquaint them with all new and present job opportunities in their fields and to develop appreciation for the field of study.

The Industrial Arts Association consists of students having similar interests and aspirations.

Its officers included: President, Lenon Jordan; Vice-President, James Person; Secretary, Joseph Stowe; Treasurer, Moses Payne and Reporter, Charlie Matthews.

The Business Association

Members of the Business Association strive to form a closer union among business students, maintain a closer liaison between themselves and the Business Department, provide for greater scholastic achievement, and strive for the molding of productive citizens for future service. Its officers include John Zeigler, president; Austin Lane, vice-president; Loretta Johnson, secretary; Thelma McCalop, assistant secretary; William Smallwood, treasurer; Harold Neal, business manager and Earline Jones, reporter.

Modern Dance Group

The Modern Dance Group, a strictly voluntary organization, was comprised of those students interested in dancing as an art. The group was one of the best that the college has had in a number of years. During the year it produced several demonstrations on the campus and away.

The Hobby Club

Growing out of a need for adherence to constructive uses of leisure, the Hobby Club has as its purpose the promotion of recreational uses of leisure time. Its first year of existence was marked by an acute persistence on the part of its members to be devotedly dedicated to its purposes.

Officers were Rosa Jones, President; Margaret Jones, Vice-President; Mary Wells, Secretary, and Alice Simmons, Treasurer.

National Future Teachers of America

James B. Dudley Chapter.

Officers: President, Lele Yvonne Clawson; Vice-President, Margaret L. Harris; Secretary, Shirley James; Historian, Evelyn E. Baskett; Treasurer, Louise Crosby.

The James B. Dudley Chapter of the National Future Teachers of America is an organization which prides itself upon its aims in relation to the intended teacher. Its functions, designed to meet the personal and social needs of those who choose the profession, revolve around the all-embracing purposes of the organization: To develop among young people who are preparing to be teachers an organization which shall be an integral part of state and national education associations; and to acquaint teachers in training with the history, ethics, and program of the organized teaching profession.

Fellowship Council

The Fellowship Council, an affiliate of the college's Department of Religious Education, was organized for the purpose of fostering Christian fellowship on the campus. It offered an excellent outlet for those students who had taken active parts in church activities in their hometowns.

The Sunday School

The campus Sunday School is conducted to contribute to the spiritual needs of students, to develop within the student a mature sense of values, to assist the student in becoming self-directed in social and spiritual life, to develop within him a better understanding of the Bible and Biblical references, and to develop within the student a broad outlook on the world based on spiritual values.

Its officers were: Walter W. Jackson, superintendent; Edward W. Clarke, assistant superintendent; Delores Watson, secretary and Charlie Moore, treasurer. The faculty advisors were Mrs. Lucy H. Goldsmith and Albert Spruill.

The CGLP Club

The CGLP Club, composed of student members who "hail" from the four big counties in eastern North Carolina—Craven, Lenoir, Greene and Pitt—seeks to aid in the adjustment of its members to college situation. It aspires to promote high scholarship and better relations among its members and with the college family.

Its officers included: Johnnie W. Graham, Jr., president; Theodore Puttman, vice-president; Eleanor Vines, secretary and Kenneth Aldridge, treasurer.

The Jones County Club

Organized in 1911 by William Hooker, the Jones County Club has become a permanent organization. More than one hundred students from Jones County have at one time been members. "One step at a time, but always forward," the club aspires to uphold the high standards set by its founder.

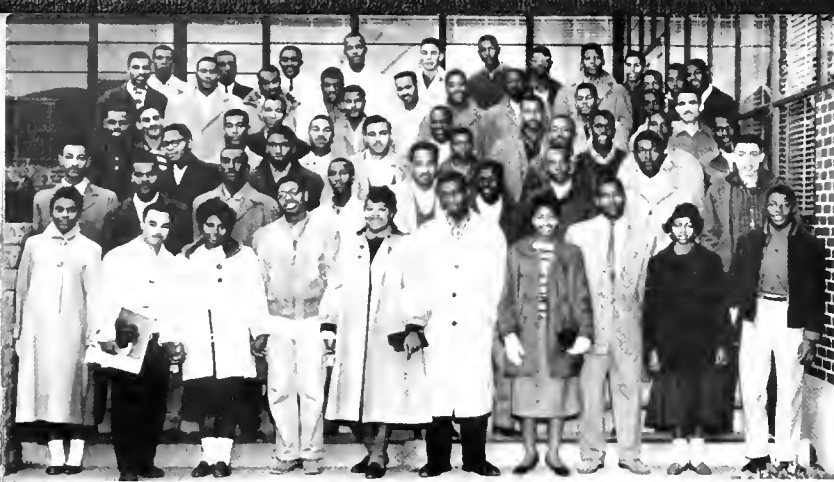

OFFICERS: President, Archie C. Shephard; Secretary, Odessa Brown; Treasurer, Helen Cheston and Vice-President, Frederick Taylor.

Winston-Salem Club

The Winston-Salem Club, all of whose members are natives of the neighboring twin city, was founded by its president, Robert Stephens. Its primary purpose is to bring into effect an amiable bond between its members and students of A. & T. Mrs. Pattie Phinx is advisor.

Technical Institute

Made up of students with diverse fields of interest in the Technical Institute, this organization is designed to co-ordinate and promote the activities of vocational students. Its officers for the 1956-57 term were Carlton Eccles, president; Aubrey Hamlett, vice-president; Margarine Sapp, secretary and Paul Adams, treasurer.

Radio Club

The Radio Club gave those students, studying radio and television, opportunity for research and development in after-class hours. The group had its greatest year in 1956-57 and portends as one of the fastest growing professional organizations on the campus.

Tailoring Club Officers

Dealing chiefly with modern trends and variations in tailoring, the members of the tailoring club pride themselves upon their aspirations to be masters of their chosen profession. Aubrey Hamlett presided over the Club for 1956-1957.

Masonry Club

The purpose of the Masonry Club is to develop leaders in the building industry and to help prepare the student for his responsibility in society.

Its officers included: President, Hezekiah McDonald; Vice-President, Thurman Russell; Secretary, James P. Rowe; Assistant Secretary, Arthur Kemp; Treasurer, Nesbit Spruill and Assistant Treasurer, John A. Coates.

Lettermen's Club

An organization whose members are all lettered athletes, the aim of the Lettermen's Club is to bring about a union between college athletes of similar high ideals of leadership, manhood, sport-manship and fair play.

Eddie Favors was president, Donald Young and Lawrence Benjamin served as vice-president and secretary, respectively. Hornby Howell was the faculty advisor.

The Usher Board

The college Usher Board was an important part of the College Chapel. Its members were devoted to the service and did commendable jobs on many extra-Chapel programs.

Its officers included: President, Horace V. Horne; Vice-President, Monnie L. Allen; Secretary, Earline Jones; Treasurer, Lillie Gorham and Advisors, Mrs. Inez Goldsmith, Mr. Leroy Holmes.

Engineering Association

The purposes of the Engineering Association were to promote interest in engineering, science and related fields; to exchange ideas and keep abreast of most recent developments in the field of general engineering.

Its officers were Clarence Funnys, president; E. W. Clark, vice-president; James Davis, secretary, and Winfred Wilson, treasurer.

Veterans Association

The Veterans Association, an organization of those students who had served in the nation's Armed Forces, was an excellent social-civic outlet. It gave its members opportunity for self-expression and organized co-operation on those matters of importance to those studying under the G. I. Bill.

Features

Miss A. & T.

A classic example of all that is desired in a queen, Josephine Currye, Miss A. & T. for 1956-1957, is a lettered ambassador of the pride and good will that pervades the campus. As part of her radiant nature, she possessed the essential traits of a leader, but with her election to office she brought a fresh, sparkling, personality and a keen appreciation for duty. Her warm, genial nature rendered those in her presence at ease.

Not only is she a beauty by physical features, but she spoke beauty and acted beauty and her regal bearing was a poetic grace.

Hail to our queen . . . the flower of our hearts.

"MISS A. & T." AND HER COURT: Everybody at A. & T. were pleased with the elected "Miss A. & T.," Miss Josephine Currye, Hickory, N. C., and the "court" which she chose.

Alpha Phi Omega

Kappa Psi Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, a National Service Fraternity, was established on the campus in 1952, and has for its purpose the rendering of service to the student body and faculty, to the youth of the community, to the members of the fraternity and to the nation.

Alpha Phi Omega was founded December 16, 1923, at Lafayette College, Easton Pennsylvania.

Omega Phi Alpha

The Omega Phi Alpha, a service sorority, was established on the campus in 1955. The organization is dedicated to the task of rendering helpful service to the college, the community and the nation, without thought of remuneration.

During its brief history it has served these function well. Its members work hand in hand to stress the development and to translate into functional reality, the ideals of finer womanhood, friendship and sisterhood for the promotion of the general welfare of humanity.

Alpha Phi Alpha

Achievement through leadership was the watchword for Beta Epsilon this year. Established here on March 28, 1929, the A. & T. College Chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., has made much progress in solidifying themselves on campus. Participation in campus activities has established Beta Epsilon as a "leader."

Individually, the brothers are standouts as well. William Mason was president of the Student Council, Clarence "Jack" Peoples and Austin D. Lane were vice-president and secretary respectively. Samuel Tucker was president of the Kappa Phi Kappa Forensic Society and captain of the track team. Walter Jackson was Corps Commander of the R.O.T.C. Units and president of Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society, William Peterson was president of Sigma Rho Sigma and vice-president of Beta Kappa Chi Scientific Society and Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society. Leon Dixon was Editor of the Register and Associate Editor of the AYASTLE. Bobby Moore was president of the Junior Class and Associate Editor of the AYASTLE and the Register. James Spreight was Battalion S-1 and Associate Editor of the AYASTLE and News Editor of the Register.

The annual Black and White Ball and the Black and Gold Banquet rounded out the year's social events.

Alpha Kappa Alpha

On January 16, 1908, a group of young women at Howard University caught the inspiration of a fellow student, Ethel Hedgeman Lyle, and initiated the movement of Greek letter sororities among Negro women in America. Alpha Kappa Alpha was among the first of the Greek-letter organizations to be organized. Ethel Hedgeman Lyle, who introduced the original proposal and whose efforts were greatly assisted by Ethel Robinson, a teacher of English at Howard, was joined in this unique venture by Lillian Burke, Beulah Burke, Margaret Flagg Holmes, Marie Woolfolk Taylor, Lavinia Norman, Anna Brown, Lucy D. Slowe, Marjorie Hill, Harriett Terry, and Sara Meriweather Utter.

The chapter has as its local projects, the Scholarship Fund, A.C.H.R., Housing Project, and a Health Program. It is the aim of the organization to "be supreme in service to all mankind" and to foster and promote the aims of the college community.

Delta Sigma Theta

PYRAMIDS: Striving to reach the happy band of Delta sisterhood were: left to right: Yvonne Marable, Eddie Mae Crafton, president; Esterlene Smith, Ruth M. J. Reese, assistant dean of pledgees; Nannie Joyner, Agnes H. Greene, Alice Hodges, secretary; Doris Pierce and A. Margaret Jones, Dean of Pledgees.

The founders of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority visualized, in 1913 at Howard University, an organization with aims more serious than social activity. They longed to see developed a union of college women based on certain cardinal principles and pledged to uphold lofty ideals. Into a bond of devotion these noble women brought together college women of like potentialities and dedicated to the same ideals and purposes.

Omega Psi Phi

Mu Psi Chapter, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, was founded in 1911 at Howard University. Basically, it is established on four cardinal principles: Manhood, Scholarship, Perververance and Uplift. We firmly believe in the equality of all mankind and have dedicated our lives toward this end. We pay tribute to those persons who are constantly making this goal nearer. "Cheers to Omega. Long may you live. Our love and devotion, we promise to give. We offer our services day by day, and promise to help you in every way. Long may you live, may you never die, we are proud to be men of Omega Psi Phi."

Zeta Phi Beta

The Zeta Phi Beta Sorority had its beginning at Howard University, January 16, 1920. Feeling the need of having an outstanding movement, one that would be in keeping with the ideals upon which the Sorority was founded, the idea of "Finer Womanhood Week" was adopted. The aim of this project was to show the value of leisure time and how to make use of it. The members of Zeta Alpha Chapter are striving hard to uphold the ideas of Finer Womanhood.

Members include: President, Caldonia Herring; Vice-President, Dora Threath; Secretary, Faye Ervin; Corresponding Secretary, Carolyn Alston; Reporter, Shirley Bush; Chaplain, Theodora Streater; Pan-Hellenic Council Representatives, Ruth Threath, Josephine Lynn and Dean of Pledges, Ethel Headen, and Members: Elizabeth Hawkins and Louise Jenkins.

Phi Beta Sigma

Eta Chapter of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc., was established on the campus in 1915. Since that time its cause has moved on its way to promote "Culture for Service and Service to Humanity."

The chapter Queen was Faye Irvin.

THE 1956 AGGIES. They had rough sledding.

Football

The Aggies had rough sledding in the 1956 campaign. Starting off minus a sure starter at the quarterback position and a limited bench, which began to show in mid-season, the team turned in its poorest record in a long number of years.

In spite of its handicaps, it started off like blazes, whipping Central State, 26-7, West Virginia State and Virginia Union, all in a row, all by substantial margins, but then the skies fell in.

They dropped decisions to Maryland State and Morgan, got back in the win column via Winston-Salem Teachers College and Virginia State, but that was all. Florida A. & M. University and N. C. College were just too much for the hapless Aggies.

Next year is our year.

Six seniors closed out collegiate competition careers. They included: Otis Hawkins, John Culthrell, Jesse Everett, Walter Parker, Lawrence Benjamin and Eddie Favors.

Strategy Session—Bill Bell, athletic director and head coach of football goes over strategy with his coaches: Melvin Groomes, Hornsby Howell, Bert Piggott and Murray Neely.

Coach Piggott checks with Captain Samuel Tucker.

Harris "Gets Set."

The loss of top performers via graduation the year before dropped track to its lowest point since Bert Piggott took over. The team participated in five-major meets, but got little more in honors than "also ran." Samuel Tucker, the outstanding performer and captain, graduates this year.

The sport is in the process of rebuilding and should regain much of its lost prestige this spring and in the coming years.

Track

AGGIE'S BASKETBALL TEAM—1956-57

Basketball

The brightest spot in the athletic picture at A. & T. during 1956-57 was the basketball team, about the best the college has produced in 20-years.

Cal Irvin, with a small band of freshman and sophomore standouts, plus Billy Smith and Donald Young, the only upperclassmen, completely electrified the CIAA in winning 12-straights without a single defeat. The team appeared to have had about everything but experience, but who cared about "experience," anyway. The impression about the conference was that the Aggie "bench" was everything that any coach would want.

When Al Attles was injured in the Morgan clash at mid-season, the apparent "bench" vanished. In spite of this, the team ended up with 16-4 win record to place second in the CIAA visitation campaign.

"Dog tired," the boys entered the conference tourney, favorites to win, but those hopes soon faded. They whipped twice defeated Morgan in the first round, dropped to twice defeated Winston-Salem in the second round and were thrashed by Fayetteville, another team it had defeated twice in regular season to end up in the lowly fourth place in the three-day competition.

The team also dropped its first round contest against Tennessee A. & T. University in the NMAA Eliminations, for a season's record of 17-8.

The picture is still bright for the coming year with the retention of the freshman and sophomore stars.

The Aggies, normal kingpins in CIAA baseball competition, took a tumble in 1956 in winning just one-half of their games. The 6-6 record was about the poorest that it has had in modern day competition.

The team had its problems in losing outstanding performers in infielders and pitchers, losses it could not recoup in a single year. These problems were multiplied in a change of coaches just shortly before the season was to begin.
